SPARKS'S RULINGS REVERSED. Settlers Whose Patents Were Withheld Will Be Relieved. WASHINGTON, March 8.—[Special Telegram.]—The representatives from the new states have been urging the secretary of the interior and land commissioner to relieve settlers whose patents have been suspended for many years under an order of Sparks. Major Pickler, a member of the committee on public lands, has been active in the case, and has secured a special report of the land office before coming to congress. Sparks's action of Sparks. He came across many cases where patents were withheld without the shadow of justice. Commissioner Gifford became convinced of this and has issued the following order to chiefs of divisions in the general office: "You will immediately re-examine all suspended final entries in your division, with the object of relieving them from suspension, if possible, under the existing laws and regulations, where, on account of some existing laws or regulations apparently inconsistent with the present policy, cases have been suspended. You will make a schedule of such cases, giving causes of suspension, and submit the same to the secretary of the interior, with such suggestions as you may deem proper in view of having him consider the advisability of modifying such regulation. The result of this order will be that many suspended patents will soon be issued. Representative Lind to-day defeated Chairman Layton, of the public lands committee, on the question of the bill to amend cases before land officers. The bill originally reported made it a felony for a witness not to attend when subpoenaed. The amendment offered by Lind and adopted makes it the duty of the officer to report the failure of a witness to attend trial to the district court, which court shall take action as the facts warrant, but in no case shall the fine exceed $100. The poverty clause in the bill also stricken out, which provided that any man who represented that he was unable to pay witness fees could compel the attendance of such witnesses. The bill as it passed will benefit the actual settler or claimant of the land in contest.

SINKING LUND BONDS. Secretary Windom Substituting Railroad Securities for Four Per Cent. WASHINGTON, March 8.—Acting under the opinion of the attorney general, that he has discretionary power in the matter, Secretary Windom has ordered the transfer of the Pacific railroad sinking fund bonds and the investment of the proceeds in first mortgage bonds of subsidized railroads. The bonds for the present will be confined to government 4 per cent. Four and a half million dollars is about the amount of those already transferred, and the proceeds were invested in mortgage bonds of the Central Pacific road.

NEW YORK, March 8.—An Evening Post reporter called on Sidney Dillon and asked him for particulars regarding Secretary Windom's proposition to substitute for United States 4 per cent. bonds amounting to $100,000,000, sinking fund of the Union Pacific railroad, an equal amount of first mortgage bonds of that railroad bearing 6 per cent. at liberty to say how the matter was standing between the government and the railroad, but he flatly refused to do so. He said that he was not prepared to be regarded favorably by the latter, the sale of its bonds being an advantage, while the interest, although coming out of the road's earnings, would be applied towards extinction of the road's liability to the government. "What the government ought to do," he said, "is to let the railroad take the bonds of our branch roads in exchange for its bonds. These bonds have been declared to be of benefit to the main line, and substitution of their securities for the government's will be of greater advantage to the roads than even the proposed arrangement."

THE FRENCH WAR IN DAHOMEY. Paris, March 8.—In the depths of to-day France stated that the king of Dahomey refused to recognize the French protectorate over the slave coast and had invaded that territory, but had been repulsed. He also said that if the king refused to satisfy the demands of France, it would be necessary to take vigorous action, not with a view to the conquest of Dahomey, but for the purpose of giving a salutary lesson to the king and people.

The Tide Lands Bill Remitted for Further Amendment.

EXTENT OF SHERMAN COUNTY

Extraordinary Meeting of Attorney General Metcalf—The School for Defective Children.

OLYMPIA, March 8.—[Special Telegram.]—When the tide lands bill was first introduced this morning it counted on thirty-six votes, and had declined to reconsider the vote by which the bill failed to pass yesterday and push it to final passage. But there was another break in their line, and they changed their minds suddenly. They were not satisfied with the bill as it stands, and wanted a few minor amendments. Action was therefore deferred on this account. On motion of Stephenson the bill was reconsidered and read a second time, and a long debate ensued as to what should be the next step. Eddy wanted the bill remitted to the committee on harbors and navigable waters, but the instruction to amend Montclair preferred the state and grating lands committee, and Kuhn the standing committee on tide lands. Kuhn's motion was voted down today, says 34.

Montclair then threw the house into the utmost confusion by offering a written challenge of the names of voters, who, he claimed, were owners of property abutting upon tide lands and therefore had valuable rights which disqualified them from voting. He challenged Browne of Pierce, Douglass, Huntington, Kuhn, McHenry, Morse, Plummer, Richmond, Metcalf and Meier. Opposition to the challenge was heard from all sides and a dozen men arose to question the privilege of a citizen to demand that right the gentleman has to say that I am an abutting owner," said Douglass. I have no interest in tide lands, and I am not a citizen of this state, and I cannot challenge the challenge of an important and disreputable.

Browne of Pierce denied that himself or the corporation in which he is interested, owned a foot of tide lands.

"I move to consider the resolution as in order," said Douglass. I second the motion," came from Stevenson. Kuhn was in the chair, read it out of order, and Douglass spoke and denied that he owned a foot of tide lands.

The roll call had been ordered on the final passage of the bill, and Chairman Gray called attention to rule 22, which required every member to vote unless excused for a special reason. Robertson was excused at his request. The house would not excuse Eddy. Just as the vote was about to be taken, the friends of the bill came to the conclusion that they were not strong enough to pass it, so they fell in line with the movement to recommence.

After a long debate the bill was sent to the committee on harbors and navigable waters, with instructions to report it at 11 A. M. Tuesday. Eddy's bill for the disposition of oyster lands was also returned to the committee to be considered with the tide-land bill.

The committee intended to hold a meeting to night, but only two or three members put in their appearance. A large number of representatives, principally those opposed to the joint committee's bill, were on hand, and a majority of them had amendments to offer. Chairman McHenry took charge of all amendments offered and they will be considered at a meeting of the committee Monday evening.

Speaker Felghien offered a practically new bill to be appointed from the state at large, not local boards in each county where there are tide lands. The board is to plat the lands and appraise them at their market value, improve them, and sell them at public sale. Speaker Felghien's proposed amendment to section 5 is as follows:

When tide or shore lands lie adjacent to a town or city they shall be platted into lots and blocks corresponding as near as practicable to the general platting of lands adjacent thereto, and shall be surveyed or platted except such as may lie within the limits of a town or city or within one mile of the shore line thereof.

Another of the speaker's amendments makes it the duty of the attorney general to examine and pass upon all applications to purchase and in case an appeal is taken with his advice the applicant shall not be liable for the cost.

The speaker also offered an amendment to section 10 giving the abutting owner pre-emptive right of purchase for sixty days, only when he has made permanent and valuable improvements to the lands in front of him, and to the owner of improvements adjacent to the land occupied by improvements. If these persons do not exercise their rights within the time specified the land is to be sold to the highest bidder.

Johnson of Pierce offered the following suggestions:

First—Land not to be surveyed and platted until cities and towns have applied for the same, and take into consideration the cost of surveys.

Second—Land not to be sold unless the intending purchaser will build improvements.

Third—When a lot is sold to purchase in the time specified, any person may purchase. The board shall make a sale and advertise for bids and award to the highest bidder.

Fourth—Land not to be platted.

Fifth—Any person may notify the commission that he will pay 10 per cent. more than the appraised price.

Montclair's amendment proposes to protect titles of persons who have purchased platted lands the original purchaser of which has not paid the full price to the state. The amendment provides for the disposition of oyster lands which have been in the hands of the state for five years, in the same manner as tide lands.

Allen's suggestion directs the state board to designate tide lands necessary to be surveyed and provides that unsurveyed lands may be surveyed at the request of any intending purchaser, who may deposit the estimated cost of the survey and if he shall subsequently purchase the lands he shall be entitled to credit for the amount so deposited.

The senate was notified this morning by Governor Ferry that he had appointed H. G. Tibbels, Jr. F. L. Hastings and Nelson J. Laubach as members of the board of health for the Puget Sound district. The nominations were confirmed in the senate, the senators voting down a motion to go into executive session.

Hunsaker introduced a memorial to day in the senate, praying congress to make an appropriation to develop Olympia harbor. The memorial was passed.

Representative Horren to-day introduced a bill dividing Spokane and Whitman counties to create the county of Sherman. The new county will contain fifty-nine, thirty-eight from Spokane and twenty-two from Whitman. The Spokane bill took only two votes from Spokane. It was within ten miles of the border, and Cheney will be in Sherman county. Horren says that there are forty-one votes for the bill and that it will pass with a margin. Brown of Spokane is very warmly over the present action of the bill, and denounces it as a con temptible trick of the tide lands men. He told Horren so during the noon recess. Horren denied this and said a petition had been received from the proposed new county in favor of the bill. He said that the Spokane bill was unfairly defeated in the first place. Her

 Never before has millinery attained the degree of perfection which it now holds, we are just entering a new era and one consisting of many wonderful and startling changes. THE MODISTE must indeed be an artist of great and varied experience. To begin, no hat is to be trimmed, except patterns, until it has been fitted and moulded on the head of the lady for whom it is intended, then a careful study of the face is absolutely necessary before the design can be carried into proper effect.
 WE POSSESS THE MODISTE.
 The Spring loves of Bonnets and Hats have seldom been equalled and never excelled, but few new colors are promised. The Monsercan is a pleasing shade. The Admiral, Gendarme, Sapphire, Paon, Chasseur, are various shades of Blue, ranging from a Marine to a Navy, Vermouth is a Greenish Grey. The new color just produced shown in all imported goods is the Glendon a very pale yellow, while a light beige with a tinge of lavender is known as Champignon, Paille and Bontou d'Or, two dark shades of yellow, Persian between a pink and mauve, and Farnell is the name given to a bright vivid green.
 As this is to be a season of Elegant Laces and Draperies, we are given the soft Silks, Crepe de Chine, Satins, and Silk Gauzes in all new designs. In trimmings, we are led to believe that Velvet Ribbons, satin back, will more than double the popularity that it enjoyed the past season. Laces of all styles and varieties will be used both for Hat and Dress Trimming, from the narrow to the beautiful silk gauze hand embroidered laces—CHANTILLY, VANDYKE, EIFFEL TOWER POINTS, in Cream and Black are the favorites. FLOWERS will decorate most all hats, and never was nature more closely simulated. The fine flower predominates. Many bonnets will be composed entirely of small buds. Forget-Me-Not or Lilies of the Valley, finished with a large bow of wide fancy ribbon. Buttercups, Lilies, Crysanthemums, Lilacs and small French Piquettes will be used extensively.
 Black will be very popular, but as a trimming, mostly, it obtains largely on hats and bonnets, whose foundations are formed of the lighter and brighter shades, the effect is greatly heightened by the contrast, and it endures that which might otherwise seem displeasing to the eye. The endorsement that yellow has received will make it extremely popular, and the entire scale, from the deepest Orange to the light Chamois and Blanc-mat, will find favor with those seeking the color that is acknowledged by all artists to be the most flattering to the complexion. This color or combined with black, green, brown, grey or mountain purple, is one of nature's own combination. In regard to trimming and shapes we have that which is noted for its distinctness from the season just passed. In shapes, large hats will be used for outdoor wear, where the eyes are to be protected from the sun's rays, but they can never fill the place of the TOQUE for dress occasions. The TOQUE alone is admirably adapted for this, and fashionable women readily recognize the fact. Open crowns, with silk wide and narrow ribbon lace over, is a feature of these artistic creations. The popular Braids for the coming season are the Tescan, Italian, Milan, Russian Hair, Leghorn and English fancy Braids.
